ORIGINAL COMPLAINT

Plaintiff A PTY Ltd. (“A PTY” or “Plaintiff”) files this Complaint against eBay, Inc. (“eBay” or “Defendant”) for infringement of U.S. Patent No. 7,010,572 (the “572 Patent”).

I. PARTIES

1. Plaintiff A PTY Ltd. is a company existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Australia, with its principal place of business headquartered at 1/620 St. Kilda Road, Melbourne, Victoria, Australia 3004.

2. Defendant eBay, Inc. is a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business at 2065 Hamilton Avenue, San Jose, California 95125. eBay has appointed its agent for service as follows: National Registered Agents, Inc., 1999 Bryan Street, Suite 900, Dallas, Texas 75201.

II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. This is an action for patent infringement which arises under 35 U.S.C. §§ 271, 281, 284 and 285. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action under 28 U.S.C. §§1331 and 1338(a).

4. Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b), 1391(c), and 1400(b). On information and belief, Defendant is deemed to reside in judicial district, has committed acts of infringement in this judicial district, has purposely transacted business involving their accused products in this judicial district, and/or has regular and established places of business in this judicial district.

5. Defendant is subject to this Court's specific and general personal jurisdiction pursuant to due process and/or the Texas Long Arm Statute, due at least to their substantial business in this State and judicial district, including: (A) at least part of their infringing activities alleged herein; and (B) regularly doing or soliciting business and, accordingly, deriving substantial revenue from goods and services provided to residents of this district and Texas. This includes, but is not limited to, operating a website (<http://www.ebay.com/>) that provides the claimed method of conveying an email message to residents of this district. Thus, Defendant has purposefully availed itself of the benefits of the state of Texas and the exercise of jurisdiction is proper.

III. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

6. In the mid-1990s, an associated company of A PTY was involved with the provisioning and printing of telephone directories in Australia. In an effort to increase the value and utility of the directories, the subject technology was developed to enable users of the directory to locate the email address of a desired recipient. The method proposed the idea of adding identifiers next to advertised names, addresses, and phone numbers in the printed directories. The identifiers were intended to indicate to a user of the directory that any person linked to that address or phone number could be located and contacted via email.

7. The '572 Patent is generally directed towards a method for conveying email messages, where the email message includes an address field that is different from the unique address of the intended recipient of the email message. The email message can include an address field that is a descriptor of the intended recipient of the email message, rather than the account name of the recipient. The method further involves locating in a database of descriptors and email addresses the email address associated with the descriptor and forwarding the message to the email address yielded by the database.

8. Defendant's accused instrumentalities enable the users of Defendant's website to convey email messages to other users of the website via an address field containing a descriptor of the intended recipient, rather than the actual email address of the intended recipient.

9. On information and belief, eBay operates an office in Austin, Texas that has at least 400 employees and is responsible for both technical and business functions.

IV. PATENT INFRINGEMENT

COUNT I — INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT 7,010,572

10. Plaintiff is the assignee of the '572 Patent, entitled "SYSTEM FOR HANDLING ELECTRONIC MAIL," and holds all substantial rights in the same. Plaintiff has the exclusive right to sue and recover damages for past and future infringements. A true and correct copy of the '572 Patent is attached as Exhibit A.

11. eBay has directly infringed and continues to infringe one or more claims of the '572 Patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in Texas and the United States by, among other things, making, having made, providing, using, and/or distributing claimed method for conveying an email message. At a minimum, eBay has been, and now is, infringing claims of the '572 Patent, including (for example) at least Claim 1, by making, having made, providing, using, and/or distributing their communications platform that enables users to contact and convey email messages to eBay members via a descriptor of the intended recipient.

12. eBay has knowledge of the '572 Patent at least as early as the date of service of this Complaint.

13. With knowledge of the '572 Patent, eBay directs and aids its customers in using its communications platform and provides instruction (including, by way of example, the instructions available at <http://pages.ebay.com/help/account/my-messages.html#sending>) to users.

14. Plaintiff alleges that each and every element is literally present in the accused systems. To the extent not literally present, Plaintiff reserves the right to proceed under the doctrine of equivalents.

15. Plaintiff has been damaged as a result of eBay's infringing conduct. eBay is thus liable to Plaintiff in an amount that adequately compensates it for eBay's infringements, which, by law, cannot be less than a reasonable royalty, together with interest and costs as fixed by this Court under 35 U.S.C. § 284.

V. JURY DEMAND

16. A PTY demands a trial by jury of all matters to which it is entitled to trial by jury, pursuant to FED. R. CIV. P. 38.

VI. PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff A PTY prays for judgment and seeks relief against Defendant as follows:

- a. Judgment that one or more claims of U.S. Patent No. 7,010,572 has been infringed, either literally and/or under the doctrine of equivalents, by Defendant;
- b. Judgment that Defendant account for and pay to Plaintiff all damages to and costs incurred by Plaintiff because of Defendant's infringing activities and other conduct complained of herein;

ORIGINAL COMPLAINT

- c. That Plaintiff be granted pre-judgment and post judgment interest on the damages caused by Defendant's infringing activities and other conduct complained of herein;
- e. That Plaintiff be granted such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper under the circumstances.

Dated: February 23, 2015.

Respectfully submitted,
