Civil Action No. 6:15-cv-00095

PLAINTIFF’S ORIGINAL COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, Auto-Dril, Inc. (“Auto-Dril”) files this Original Complaint against Integrated Drive Systems, LLC (“IDS” or the “Defendant”) and would show the Court the following:

PARTIES

1. Auto-Dril is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Texas and having its principal place of business at 4000 South County Road 1293, Odessa, TX 79765.
2. On information and belief, Defendant, IDS, is a limited liability company organized under the laws of the State of Texas, and may be served with process by serving its registered agent, Norman S. Myers at 16106 Champions Dr., Spring, Texas 77379. On information and belief, IDS does business throughout the United States.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. This action arises under the patent laws of the United States, Title 35 of the United States Code. The Court’s jurisdiction over this action is proper under the above statutes, including 35 U.S.C. § 271 et seq. and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a).
4. On information and belief, personal jurisdiction exists generally over the Defendant because it has sufficient minimum contacts with the forum as a result of business conducted within the State of Texas and within the Western District of Texas, Waco Division. Personal jurisdiction also exists specifically over the Defendant because of its conduct in making, using, selling, offering to sell, and/or importing infringing products within the State of Texas and within the Western District of Texas, Waco Division.

5. On information and belief, the products at issue are offered for sale through direct sales representatives located in the Western District of Texas, Waco Division, and through on-line advertising and promotion.

6. On information and belief, the products at issue are used with oil and gas drilling rigs located in the Western District of Texas, Waco Division. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b), (c), and (d), as well as 28 U.S.C. § 1400(b).

FACTS

7. Auto-Dril repeats and re-alleges the allegations in paragraphs 1-6 as though fully set forth herein.

8. Auto-Dril is the owner of all rights, title, and interest in and under United States Patent No. 6,994,172 (“Well Drilling Control System”) (hereinafter, the “’172 Patent” or the “Asserted Patent”), which duly and legally issued on February 7, 2006. A true and correct copy of the ‘172 Patent is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

9. James Ray, the inventor and prior owner of the ‘172 Patent, assigned all rights in the ‘172 Patent, including the right to sue and recover damages for past infringement, to Auto-Dril on March 18, 2015.

10. The ‘172 Patent is valid and enforceable.

11. On information and belief, all requisite maintenance fees have been paid, and Auto-Dril has complied with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. § 287.

12. On information and belief, Defendant IDS has been, and is, infringing the ‘172 Patent by making, using, selling, offering for sale, and/or importing in or into the United States, without authority, products that fall within the scope of one or more claims of the ‘172 Patent, including making, using, sell, offering for sale, and/or importing into the United States of one or more Intelli-DRILL Autodriller System.

13. IDS is a provider of equipment, components, and services for oil and gas drilling and production operations. IDS has the services of both in-house and outside patent counsel.

14. IDS has been actively engaged in automatic drilling control system development and education for a number of years.

15. On information and belief, therefore, IDS either has known of the ‘172 Patent, or has been “willfully blind” to its existence.

16. IDS has actively promoted the sales to, and use by third parties of its automatic drilling control systems, including its Intelli-DRILL Autodriller System.

17. Third parties, in using at least IDS’s Intelli-DRILL Autodriller System have directly infringed one or more claims of the ‘172 Patent.

18. On information and belief, IDS sells components of, and/or accessories for use with its automatic drilling control systems, the use of which has no substantial non-infringing use (Non-Staple Items”) relative to the ‘172 Patent.

19. On information and belief, Non-Staple Items provided to third parties constitute material portions of the patented combinations that are within the scope of the ‘172 Patent.

20. On information and belief, third parties combine Non-Staple Items provided, directly or indirectly, by IDS, with other component(s) to assemble apparatus falling within the scope of one or more of the claims of the ‘172 Patent.

COUNT I – DIRECT INFRINGEMENT OF THE ‘172 PATENT

21. Auto-Dril repeats and incorporates the preceding paragraphs 1-20.
22. By making, using, selling, offering for sale, importing, promoting, inducing, and/or providing to others in or into the United States, without authority, products, the providing and/or use which fall within the scope of one or more claims of the ‘172 Patent, IDS has directly infringed one or more claims of the ‘172 Patent, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 271(a).
23. As a direct and proximate result of IDS’s acts of patent infringement, Auto-Dril has been and continues to be injured, and has sustained and will continue to sustain substantial damages in an amount not presently known.
24. Auto-Dril has suffered from the infringement of IDS, and has lost and will continue to lose profits and/or royalties as a result of IDS’s infringement.
25. Auto-Dril has no adequate remedy at law against these acts of patent infringement. Unless IDS is permanently enjoined from its unlawful and willful infringement of the ‘172 Patent, Auto-Dril will suffer irreparable harm.
26. Auto-Dril has incurred and will incur attorneys’ fees, costs, and expenses in the prosecution of this action.
27. The circumstances of this dispute create an exceptional case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. §285, and Auto-Dril is entitled to recover his reasonable and necessary fees and expenses.

COUNT II – INDUCING INFRINGEMENT OF THE ‘172 PATENT

28. Auto-Dril repeats and incorporates the preceding paragraphs 1-20.
29. By actively inducing third parties to use products falling within the scope of one or more claims of the ‘172 Patent, with knowledge of (or “willful blindness” to) the patents, and knowledge that (or “willful blindness” to the fact that) the actions of third parties directly infringe such claims, IDS has induced infringement on one or more of the ‘172 Patent, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 271(b).

30. As a direct and proximate result of IDS’s acts of patent infringement, Auto-Dril has been and continues to be injured, and has sustained and will continue to sustain substantial damages in an amount not presently known.

31. Auto-Dril has suffered from the infringement of IDS, and has lost and will continue to lose profits and/or royalties as a result of IDS’s infringement.

32. Auto-Dril has no adequate remedy at law against these acts of patent infringement. Unless IDS is permanently enjoined from its unlawful and willful infringement of the ‘172 Patent, Auto-Dril will suffer irreparable harm.

33. Auto-Dril has incurred and will incur attorneys’ fees, costs, and expenses in the prosecution of this action.

34. The circumstances of this dispute create an exceptional case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. §285, and Auto-Dril is entitled to recover his reasonable and necessary fees and expenses.

COUNT III – CONTRIBUTORY INFRINGEMENT OF THE ‘172 PATENT

35. Auto-Dril repeats and incorporates the preceding paragraphs 1-20.

36. By producing and providing to third parties Non-Staple Items, with subsequent assembly and use of apparatus that infringe one or more claims of the ‘172 Patent, with knowledge of (or “willful blindness” to) the Asserted Patents, and of the actions, as infringement, of third parties who directly infringe such claims, IDS has contributorily infringed on one or more of the ‘172 Patent claims, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 271(c).

37. As a direct and proximate result of IDS's acts of patent infringement, Auto-Dril has been and continues to be injured, and has sustained and will continue to sustain substantial damages in an amount not presently known.

38. Auto-Dril has suffered from the infringement of IDS, and has lost and will continue to lose profits and/or royalties as a result of IDS's infringement.

39. Auto-Dril has no adequate remedy at law against these acts of patent infringement. Unless IDS is permanently enjoined from its unlawful and willful infringement of the '172 Patent, Auto-Dril will suffer irreparable harm.

40. Auto-Dril has incurred and will incur attorneys' fees, costs, and expenses in the prosecution of this action.

41. The circumstances of this dispute create an exceptional case within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. §285, and Auto-Dril is entitled to recover his reasonable and necessary fees and expenses.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Plaintiff Auto-Dril respectfully requests that judgment be entered in its favor and against Defendant IDS, and that the Court grant the following relief to Auto-Dril:

- A. Declare that the '172 Patent is valid and enforceable;
- B. Grant judgment in Auto-Dril's favor that IDS has directly infringed the '172 Patent;
- C. Grant judgment in Auto-Dril's favor that IDS has induced infringement of the '172 Patent;
- D. Grant judgment in Auto-Dril's favor that IDS has contributorily infringed the '172 Patent;
- E. Declare that IDS's infringement was willful;
- F. Award damages to Auto-Dril to which it is entitled for patent infringement;
- G. Award damages to Auto-Dril for which it is entitled for its lost profits, or as a reasonable royalty as provided by law;
