PLAINTIFF'S ORIGINAL COMPLAINT FOR PATENT
INFRINGEMENT

Jury Trial Demanded

11
12 Plaintiff Content Aggregation Solutions LLC files this complaint against 13 Huawei Technologies Co., Ltd and Huawei Technologies (USA), Co. Ltd (collectively
14 “Defendants”) for infringement of U.S. Patent No. 8,756,155.

15 THE PARTIES

16 1. Content Aggregation Solutions LLC (“CAS” or “Plaintiff”) is a Texas
17 limited liability company with its principal place of business at 8616 Turtle Creek
18 Blvd., Suite 521, Dallas, Texas 75225. CAS is the owner by assignment of U.S.
19 Patent No. 8,756,155 (“the ’155 patent”).

20 2. On information and belief, Huawei Technologies Co. Ltd is incorporated
21 under the laws of China with its principal place of business in Shenzhen,
22 Guangdong, China. Sharp Corporation may be served with process in China
23 pursuant to the Hague Convention on the Service Abroad of Judicial and 24 Extrajudicial Documents in Civil or Commercial Matters. This Defendant does 25 business in the State of California and in the Southern District of California.

26 3. On information and belief, Huawei Technologies (USA) Co. Ltd (with 27 Huawei Technologies Co. Ltd “Huawei”) is a Texas corporation with its principal
28 place of business at 5700 Tennyson Parkway, Plano, Texas 75024. This Defendant

1 may be served with process through its agent, CT Corporation System, 1999 Bryan
2 St., Ste 9, Dallas, TX 75201. This Defendant does business in the State of 3 California and in the Southern District of California.

4 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

5 4. CAS brings this action for patent infringement under the patent laws of the 6 United States, namely 35 U.S.C. §§ 271, 281, and 284-285, among others. This
7 Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338.

8 5. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b)-(d) and 9 1400(b). On information and belief, Huawei Technologies (USA) Co. Ltd transacts
10 business in this District. Huawei Technologies Co. Ltd is an alien that conducts 11 business in this District through its wholly-owned subsidiary Huawei Technologies
12 (USA) Co. Ltd. On information and belief, Huawei has committed acts of 13 infringement in this District.

14 6. Each Defendant is subject to this Court's specific and general personal 15 jurisdiction pursuant to due process and/or the California Long Arm Statute, due at 16 least to its substantial business in this State and judicial district, including: (A) at 17 least part of its infringing activities alleged herein; and (B) regularly doing or 18 soliciting business, engaging in other persistent conduct, and/or deriving
19 substantial revenue from goods sold and services provided to California residents.

20 COUNT I

21 (Patent Infringement - U.S. Patent No. 8,756,155)

22 7. CAS incorporates paragraphs 1 through 6 herein by reference.

23 8. This cause of action arises under the patent laws of the United States, and in 24 particular, 35 U.S.C. §§ 271, et seq.

25 9. CAS is the owner of the '155 patent, entitled "Web Based Communication
26 of Information with Reconfigurable Format," with ownership of all substantial rights 27 in the '155 patent, including the right to exclude others and to enforce, sue, and 28 recover damages for past and future infringement. A true and correct copy of the '155

1 patent is attached as Exhibit A.

2 10. The '155 patent is valid, enforceable and was duly issued in full compliance
3 with Title 35 of the United States Code.

4 11. The claims of the '155 patent are directed to solving a variety of technical
5 problems arising from the significant limitations of the Internet, and in doing so
6 improve the operation of certain types of devices using the Internet.

7 12. The claims are addressed, among other things, to the technical problem of 8 how to efficiently and practically assemble a combination of different information
9 from different sources on the Internet and return that information to a handheld
10 device, such as a Smartphone, that on its own would have been incapable of 11 assembling the information in a practical and useful way without modification of the 12 different sources. The claims additionally reduce technical complexity and improve 13 efficiency in the handheld device by allowing the aggregation to take place upon the 14 selection of at least one indicator with a single actuation. The precise way in which 15 these problems have been solved with the improvements of the '155 patent claims is 16 specified in each of the separate claims.

17 13. The Patent Office found that the claimed inventions were different from any 18 pre-existing technology known to the Patent Office and that a person of ordinary skill 19 in the technology related to the '155 patent would not have found it obvious to 20 combine preexisting technologies to arrive at the solutions set forth in the '155 patent.

21 14. The integrations in the claims of the '155 patent provide new results that 22 allow handheld devices to operate in a superior way that was not available before the 23 invention of the '155 claims, providing benefits that did not exist before the '155
24 claims.

25 15. None of the claims of the '155 patent preempts the use of handheld devices,
26 such as Smartphones, on the Internet. Nor do any of the claims preempt commerce on 27 the Internet, electronic shopping, Internet auctions, web browsing, or any other
28 fundamental and long prevalent Internet or economic practice.

1 16. There are technical alternatives to the claims of the '155 patent that are
2 directed to the same problems addressed by the patent claims.

3 17. Each claim of the '155 patent claims an apparatus for a specific computing
4 device, not a mere general computer or generic handheld device.

5 DIRECT INFRINGEMENT (35 U.S.C. § 271(a))

6 18. Defendants have directly infringed, and continue to directly infringe, one or 7 more claims of the '155 patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in California and 8 the United States.

9 19. Defendants have infringed at least claims 1, 15 and 16 of the '155 patent, by 10 using, selling, and/or offering to sell, within the United States, and/or by importing 11 into the United States, products, including, but not limited to, smartphones and/or 12 tablets that include Android operating systems with Google Now Cards functionality.

13 20. Defendants are liable for these direct infringements pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 14 271.

15 WHEREFORE, CAS asks that the Court find in its favor and against 16 Defendants, and that the Court grant CAS the following relief:

- 17 a. Judgment that one or more claims of the '155 patent has been infringed,
18 either literally and/or under the doctrine of equivalents, by one or more
19 Defendants;
- 20 b. Judgment that Defendants account for and pay to CAS all damages and 21 costs incurred by CAS because of Defendants' infringing activities and 22 other conduct complained of herein;
- 23 c. Judgment that Defendants account for and pay to CAS a reasonable, on-
24 going, post judgment royalty because of Defendants' infringing activities
25 and other conduct complained of herein;
- 26 d. That CAS be granted pre judgment and post judgment interest on the 27 damages caused by Defendants' infringing activities and other conduct 28 complained of herein; and
