7. Defendant is subject to this Court's specific and general personal jurisdiction pursuant to due process and/or the Texas Long Arm Statute, due at least to its substantial business in this forum, including: (i) at least a portion of the infringements alleged herein; and (ii) regularly doing or soliciting business, engaging in other persistent courses of conduct, and/or deriving substantial revenue from goods and services provided to individuals in Texas and in this judicial district.

8. Defendant has conducted and does conduct business within the state of Texas, including the geographic region within the Eastern District of Texas, directly or through

14. Defendants use, make, sell, offer to sell and/or import products that, when used, infringe on the '862 patent.

15. At least one right to relief is asserted against these parties jointly, severally, or in the alternative with respect to or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences relating to the making, using, importing into the United States, offering to sell, or selling of the same accused product and/or process.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

16. On October 23, 2012, the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO") duly and legally issued the '862 patent, entitled "Method and system to enable communication through SMS communication channel" after a full and fair examination. (Exhibit A).

17. Anuwave is presently the owner of the patent, having received all right, title and interest in and to the '862 patent from the previous assignee of record. Anuwave possesses all rights of recovery under the '862 patent, including the exclusive right to recover for past infringement.

18. The '862 patent contains two independent claims and five dependent claims. Defendant commercializes, inter alia, methods that perform all the steps recited in at least one claim of the '862 patent.

19. The invention claimed in the '862 patent comprises a method for enabling communication through SMS that lists all services at a terminal station available with an SMS gateway according to meta information found at the terminal station.

20. The method allows a user to type in a desired parameter not listed at the terminal station using a network aware application. When the request is submitted to the SMS gateway, the gateway issues a response.

DEFENDANT'S PRODUCTS

21. Defendant offers text banking services, such as the “Jacksboro National Bank Text Banking System” (the “Accused Instrumentality”), that enable communication through an SMS channel, whereby any of Defendant’s customers can use their own SMS-enabled mobile device to quickly access basic account information using text commands. For example, the Accused Instrumentality enables users to receive bank services via SMS messages.

22. The Accused Instrumentality lists all services at a terminal station available with an SMS gateway according to meta information found at the terminal station. For example, the system shows all available services and their corresponding commands when a user of a mobile phone sends the text “HELP” to a certain SMS code. The SMS gateway further lists available services based upon the user’s accounts and preferences which are linked to their mobile number at registration.

23. The Accused Instrumentality includes, upon selecting a service, a network aware application configured to allow a user to type in a desired parameter. For example, a user can select the option to transfer funds by entering the corresponding “TRANS” command followed by the transferred amount (i.e. a desired parameter) in order to request the transfer of funds.

24. The Accused Instrumentality includes, upon user entering a desired parameter, submitting a request to the SMS gateway. For example, the Accused Instrumentality utilizes Common Short Codes to route messages from the user to the SMS messaging server.

25. The Accused Instrumentality includes the SMS gateway responding back with a response. The Accused Instrumentality includes the SMS gateway responding back with a response. Upon information and belief, in reference to paragraph 23, the SMS gateway shows whether the transfer was successful or not.

26. The Accused Instrumentality includes a desired parameter that is not listed at the terminal station. For example, in reference to paragraph 23, the transferred amount entered by the user in combination with the "TRANS" service command is not listed at the terminal station.

27. The elements described in paragraphs 21-26 are covered by at least claim 7 of the '862 patent. Thus, Defendant's use, manufacture, sale, and/or offer for sale of the Accused Product is enabled by the device described in the '862 patent.

INFRINGEMENT OF THE '862 PATENT

28. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 to 27.

29. In violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271, Defendants are now, and have been directly infringing the '862 patent.

30. Defendants have had knowledge of infringement of the '862 patent at least as of the service of the present complaint.

31. Defendants have directly infringed and continue to directly infringe at least claim 7 of the '862 patent by making, using, importing, offering for sale, and/or selling the Accused Instrumentality through its website without authority in the United States, and will continue to do so unless enjoined by this Court. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' direct infringement of the '862 patent, Plaintiff has been and continues to be damaged.

32. By engaging in the conduct described herein, Defendants have injured Anuwave and is thus liable for infringement of the '862 patent, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271.

33. Defendants have committed these acts of infringement without license or authorization.

34. As a result of Defendants' infringement of the '862 patent, Anuwave has suffered monetary damages and is entitled to a monetary judgment in an amount adequate to compensate for Defendants' past infringement, together with interests and costs.

35. Anuwave will continue to suffer damages in the future unless Defendants' infringing activities are enjoined by this Court. As such, Anuwave is entitled to compensation for any continuing and/or future infringement up until the date that Defendants are finally and permanently enjoined from further infringement.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

36. Anuwave demands a trial by jury of any and all causes of action.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Anuwave prays for the following relief:

a. That Defendants be adjudged to have directly infringed the '862 patent either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents;

b. That Defendants, their officers, directors, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, affiliates, divisions, branches, parents, and those persons in active concert or participation with any of them, be permanently restrained and enjoined from directly infringing the '862 patent;

until the date that Defendants are finally and permanently enjoined from further infringement, including compensatory damages;

d. An assessment of pre-judgment and post-judgment interest and costs against Defendants, together with an award of such interest and costs, in accordance with 35 U.S.C. §284;
