1 COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT

2 For its Complaint, Plaintiff Shipping and Transit, LLC (“Plaintiff”), by and

4 THE PARTIES

5 1. Plaintiff is a company organized and existing under the laws of Florida and 6 having an address at 711 SW 24th, Boynton Beach, Florida 33435.

THE PATENTS-IN-SUIT

2 8. On July 2, 2002, United States Patent No. 6,415,207 (“the ’207 Patent”),
3 entitled, “System and method for automatically providing vehicle status information”
4 was duly and legally issued by the United States Patent and Trademark Office. A true
5 and correct copy of the ’207 Patent is attached as Exhibit A to this complaint.

6 9. On July 13, 2004, United States Patent No. 6,763,299 (“the ’299 Patent”),
7 entitled, “Notification systems and methods with notifications based upon prior stop
8 locations” was duly and legally issued by the United States Patent and Trademark Office.
9 D true and correct copy of the ’299 Patent is attached as Exhibit B to this complaint.

10 10. Plaintiff is the assignee and owner of the right, title and interest in and to the 11 ’207 Patent, and ’299 Patent including the right to assert all causes of action arising 12 under said patents and the right to any remedies for infringement of them.

DEFENDANT’S INFRINGEMENTS

14 11. Without license or authorization and in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271(a),
15 Defendant has infringed and continues to infringe the ’299 and ’207 Patents by making,
16 using, offering for sale and/or selling within this district and elsewhere in the United 17 States a computer based notification system that enables communication with a user that 18 is designed to receive delivery of a package and provides a means for requesting entry by 19 user of a package identification number.

20 12. By way of example, Defendant’s ship notice/manifest, sometimes referred to 21 as the Advanced Shipment Notice (ASN), or the 856 EDI document, is generated when a
22 user at a computer system elects to purchase an item via Defendant’s website and enters
23 an email address as part of the purchase process. Defendant explains by purchasing they 24 will be provided “order confirmation” and more importantly “shipment confirmation” by 25 selecting to purchase from their website. When a user selects a method of shipping when 26 purchasing an item from Defendant’s website, a user necessarily is required to elect a 27 shipping method that allows tracking. Once this election is made, and as the order is 28 processed, shipment confirmations are sent based on a tracking input when the package

1 starts its route (likely pick-up, placed on conveyer belt and/or scanned out to loading
2 dock/out of warehouse, etc.) to its destination (delivery address). This process is
3 evidenced on Defendant’s web page:

6 SHIPPING POLICY

7 Tanner Goods proudly ships all domestic and international orders via USPS*. Tracking numbers are provided by email at the time
8 of shipment.

9 The customer assumes responsibility for any additional charges on rejected packages. Tanner Goods is not responsible for 10 customs fees incurred from imported goods. Any shipping charges incurred due to exchange or returns for store credit are the 11 responsibility of the customer.

12 We work hard to keep our shipping rates reasonable while still getting your items to you in the most efficient and reliable way
13 possible, and we appreciate your understanding.

14 HOW DO I KNOW IF MY ORDER HAS SHIPPED?

15 When we ship your order, we will send you a confirmation email with a tracking number. Please note that changes of address
16 will not show up in the confirmation (but if we say we have processed them, we have, don't worry), and tracking numbers will 17 take up to 24 hours to update.

19 COUNT I – INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 6,415,207

20 13. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations of paragraphs 1 through 12 as
21 if fully set forth herein.

22 14. Defendant has in the past and still is directly (and through inducement)
23 infringing, or directly infringing under the doctrine of equivalents, one or more claims of
24 the '207 Patent by making, using, offering for sale and/or selling within this district and
25 elsewhere in the United States a computer based notification system that enables
26 communication with a user that is designed to receive delivery of a package and provides
27 a means for requesting entry by user of a package identification number.

28 ///

1 15. The use of a computer based notification system whereby a customer
2 requests and receives an email notification tracking her shipment is material to practicing
3 the methods of the '207 Patent.

4 16. Defendant has knowledge of the fact that its products and services as
5 administered infringe one or more claims of the '207 Patent, and as direct, firsthand
6 knowledge of the '207 Patent as a result of Plaintiff informing Defendant of the '207
7 Patent and Defendant's infringement thereof by way of a letter dated January 14, 2016.

8 17. Thus, Defendant has been on notice of the '207 Patent since at least the date
9 it received Plaintiff's letter dated January 14, 2016.

10 18. Upon information and belief, Defendant has not altered its infringing
11 conduct after receiving Plaintiff's letter dated January 14, 2016.

12 19. Upon information and belief, Defendant's continued infringement despite its
13 knowledge of the '207 Patent and the accusations of infringement has been objectively
14 reckless and willful.

15 20. Plaintiff is therefore entitled to recover from Defendant the damages
16 sustained by Plaintiff as a result of Defendant's infringement of the '207 Patent in an
17 amount subject to proof at trial, which, by law, cannot be less than a reasonable royalty,
18 together with interest and costs as fixed by this Court under 35 U.S.C. § 284.

19 COUNT II – INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 6,763,299

20 21. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the allegations of paragraphs 1 through 20 as
21 if fully set forth herein.

22 22. Defendant has in the past and still is directly (and through inducement)
23 infringing, or directly infringing under the doctrine of equivalents, one or more claims of
24 the '299 Patent by making, using, offering for sale and/or selling within this district and
25 elsewhere in the United States a computer based notification system that enables
26 communication with a user that is designed to receive delivery of a package and provides
27 a means for requesting entry by user of a package identification number.

28 ///

1 23. The use of a computer based notification system whereby a customer
2 requests and receives an email notification tracking her shipment is material to practicing
3 the methods of the '299 Patent.

4 24. Defendant has knowledge of the fact that its products and services as
5 administered infringe one or more claims of the '299 Patent, and as direct, firsthand
6 knowledge of the '299 Patent as a result of Plaintiff informing Defendant of the '299
7 Patent and Defendant's infringement thereof by way of a letter dated January 14, 2016.

8 25. Thus, Defendant has been on notice of the '299 Patent since at least the date
9 it received Plaintiff's letter dated January 14, 2016.

10 26. Upon information and belief, Defendant has not altered its infringing
11 conduct after receiving Plaintiff's letter dated January 14, 2016.

12 27. Upon information and belief, Defendant's continued infringement despite its
13 knowledge of the '299 Patent and the accusations of infringement has been objectively
14 reckless and willful.

15 28. Plaintiff is therefore entitled to recover from Defendant the damages
16 sustained by Plaintiff as a result of Defendant's infringement of the '299 Patent in an
17 amount subject to proof at trial, which, by law, cannot be less than a reasonable royalty,
18 together with interest and costs as fixed by this Court under 35 U.S.C. § 284.

19 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

20 WHEREFORE, Plaintiff requests that this Court enter judgment against Defendant
21 as follows:

22 A. An adjudication that Defendant has infringed the '207 and '299 Patents;

23 B. An award of damages to be paid by Defendant adequate to compensate
24 Plaintiff for Defendant's past infringement of the, '207 and '299 Patents and any 25 continuing or future infringement through the date such judgment is entered, including 26 interest, costs, expenses and an accounting of all infringing acts including, but not limited
27 to, those acts not presented at trial;

28 ///

1 C. A declaration that this case is exceptional under 35 U.S.C. § 285, and an
2 award of Plaintiff's reasonable attorneys' fees;

3 D. To the extent Defendant's conduct subsequent to the date of its notice of the,
4 '207 and '299 Patents are found to be objectively reckless, enhanced damages pursuant
5 to 35 U.S.C. § 284 for its willful infringement of the '207 and '299 Patents; and

6 E. An award to Plaintiff of such further relief at law or in equity as the Court
7 deems just and proper.
