COUNT I
(INFRINGEMENT OF UNITED STATES PATENT NO. 8,424,752)

8. Plaintiff incorporates paragraphs 1 through 7 herein by reference.

9. This cause of action arises under the patent laws of the United States and, in particular, under 35 U.S.C. §§ 271, et seq.

10. Plaintiff is the owner by assignment of the '752 Patent with sole rights to enforce the '752 Patent and sue infringers.

11. A copy of the '752 Patent, titled "System and Method for Presenting Information about an Object on a Portable Electronic Device," is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

12. The '752 Patent is valid, enforceable, and was duly issued in full compliance with Title 35 of the United States Code.

13. On information and belief, Defendant has infringed and continues to infringe one or more claims, including at least Claim 1, of the '752 Patent by using and/or incorporating Quick Response Codes (QR codes) in advertising media in a manner covered by one or more claims of the '752 Patent. Defendant has infringed and continues to infringe the '752 Patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271.

14. On information and belief, Defendant has, at least through internal testing, used or incorporated QR codes in advertising media, associating such QR codes with products and/or services. One specific example of Defendant's activity involves the use of QR codes in advertisements for Defendant's products and services, said advertisements existing on vehicles such as trucks.

15. For example, on information and belief, Defendant has at least internally tested the functionality of its QR codes in connection with the advertising of its products and services. On information and belief, Defendant has captured a digital image of a QR code associated with such advertising, an example of which is shown below:

16. On information and belief, at least through internal testing, Defendant has used a digital image capturing device of a portable electronic device, such as the camera component of a smart phone for example, to capture a digital image of the QR code associated with the advertisement its Product.

17. On information and belief, Defendant's capture of the digital image is processed by scanning technology loaded onto the portable electronic device. The scanning technology detects symbology (for example, a pattern within the QR code) associated with an object (for example, the QR code itself). On information and belief the scanning technology is used to decode the symbology to obtain a decode string. The decode string is sent to a remote server for further processing. Based on the decode string, the remote server sends information associated with the QR code, which is received by the user of the portable electronic device and displayed on a display associated with the portable electronic device.

18. For example, if a user scans a QR code associated with the advertisement, scanning technology decodes the pattern of the QR code to obtain a decode string and sends the decode string to a remote server. The server returns information associated with the QR code. In this example, the information received by the user and displayed on the portable electronic device is additional information about Defendant's products and services as illustrated below:

19. Defendant's actions complained of herein will continue unless Defendant is enjoined by this court.

20. Defendant's actions complained of herein are causing irreparable harm and monetary damage to Plaintiff and will continue to do so unless and until Defendant is enjoined and restrained by this Court.

28. On information and belief, Defendant has, at least through internal testing, used or incorporated QR codes in advertising media, associating such QR codes with products and/or services. One specific example of Defendant's activity involves the use of QR codes in advertisements for Defendant's products and services, said advertisements existing on vehicles such as trucks.

29. For example, on information and belief, Defendant has at least internally tested the functionality of its QR codes in connection with the advertising of its products and services. On information and belief, Defendant has captured a digital image of a QR code associated with such advertising, an example of which is shown below:

30. On information and belief, at least through internal testing, Defendant has used a digital image capturing device of a portable electronic device, such as the camera component

On information and belief the scanning technology is used to decode the symbology to obtain a decode string. The decode string is sent to a remote server for further processing. Based on the decode string, the remote server sends information associated with the QR code, which is received by the user of the portable electronic device and displayed on a display associated with the portable electronic device.

32. For example, if a user scans a QR code associated with the advertisement, scanning technology decodes the pattern of the QR code to obtain a decode string and sends the decode string to a remote server. 42. On information and belief, Defendant has, at least through internal testing, used or incorporated QR codes in advertising media, associating such QR codes with products and/or services. One specific example of Defendant's activity involves the use of QR codes in advertisements for Defendant's products and services, said advertisements existing on vehicles such as trucks.

43. For example, on information and belief, Defendant has at least internally tested the functionality of its QR codes in connection with the advertising of its products and services.
