10. The ‘285, ‘435, and ‘107 patents (“Asserted Patents”) were invented by Malik Mamdani, Patrick Johnson, Kevin Bomar, Curtis Grant, and Tim Whatley. Mr. Mamdani lives in Dallas, Texas. On information and belief, Mr. Johnson lives in Trophy Club, Texas. On information and belief, Mr. Bomar lives in Weatherford, Texas. On information and belief, Mr.

Grant lives in Flower Mound, Texas. On information and belief, Mr. Whatley lives in Athens, Texas. The Asserted Patents were prosecuted by David Judson, with an office in Dallas, Texas.

BACKGROUND

11. Aeritas developed its mobile device location-based information service based on research and development activities that began around 2000. In recognition of its pioneering efforts in this field, the United States Patent & Trademark Office issued the inventors several U.S. patents directed to Aeritas's innovative technology platform, service and notification method. These include the Asserted Patents.

12. Taco Bell provides mobile device applications for both iOS and Android devices (<https://www.tacobell.com/mobileapp>) (collectively, the "Accused Instrumentality") which, on information and belief, operate substantially the same with respect to the Asserted Patents.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF (Infringement of the '285 Patent)

13. Aeritas incorporates paragraphs 1 through 12 as though fully set forth herein.

14. Taco Bell has been and is now infringing one or more claims of the '285 patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271 by making and/or using the Accused Instrumentality.

15. More particularly, Taco Bell infringes at least claim 1 of the '285 patent. Taco Bell receives and stores an input in a user profile in a database, the input comprising consumer interest data (e.g., items in an order history). At a second time, data identifying a current location of the mobile communications device on which the Accused Instrumentality is installed is obtained (e.g., when a user returns to their Order History to make an order). Based on the input and location, Taco Bell performs a search to locate pertinent information (e.g., nearby stores capable of fulfilling a mobile order) and receives the results of such search. Taco Bell then provides the information to the mobile communications device.

16. Aeritas has been damaged by Taco Bell's infringing activities and will be irreparably harmed unless those infringing activities are preliminarily and permanently enjoined by this Court.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(Infringement of the '435 Patent)

17. Aeritas incorporates paragraphs 1 through 12 as though fully set forth herein.

18. Taco Bell has been and is now infringing one or more claims of the '435 patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271 by making and/or using the Accused Instrumentality.

19. More particularly, Taco Bell infringes at least claim 1 of the '435 patent. On information and belief, Taco Bell employs a processor and computer memory holding computer program instructions to perform the functions described herein. Taco Bell receives data indicating permission to provide a notification to a mobile device user in accordance with notification criteria (e.g., according to App notification settings). Taco Bell determines a location of the mobile device and, based on the location and notification criteria, provides at least a visual alert notification (e.g., a push notification to the mobile device when a user arrives at a location where a mobile order has been placed). Taco Bell receives second data as a result of an input being received at the mobile device (e.g., interaction with the notification), retrieves information associated with the input and location (e.g., pick-up options at the location), and provides responsive information to the mobile device (e.g., pick-up options and/or order information).

20. Aeritas has been damaged by Taco Bell's infringing activities and will be irreparably harmed unless those infringing activities are preliminarily and permanently enjoined by this Court.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
(Infringement of the '107 Patent)

21. Aeritas incorporates paragraphs 1 through 12 as though fully set forth herein.

22. Taco Bell has been and is now infringing one or more claims of the '107 patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271 by making and/or using the Accused Instrumentality.

23. More particularly, Taco Bell infringes at least claim 5 of the '107 patent. On information and belief, Taco Bell employs a processor and computer memory holding computer program instructions to perform the functions described herein. Taco Bell receives data indicating permission to provide a notification to a mobile device user in accordance with notification criteria (e.g., according to App notification settings). Taco Bell determines a location of the mobile device and, based on the location and notification criteria, provides at least a visual alert notification (e.g., a push notification to the mobile device when a user arrives at a location where a mobile order has been placed). Taco Bell receives second data as a result of an input being received at the mobile device (e.g., interaction with the notification), retrieves information associated with the input and location (e.g., pick-up options at the location), and provides responsive information to the mobile device (e.g., pick-up options and/or order information). On information and belief, the program instructions include first and second components of a rules engine to evaluate notification criteria (e.g., based on the existence of a mobile order and location) and execute notification rules (e.g., providing the notification if the criteria are met).

24. Aeritas has been damaged by Taco Bell's infringing activities and will be irreparably harmed unless those infringing activities are preliminarily and permanently enjoined by this Court.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Pursuant to Rule 38 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Aeritas hereby demands a trial by jury of all issues so triable.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Aeritas requests that the Court enter a judgment in its favor and against Defendant as follows:

- A. Permanently enjoining Defendant, its agents, servants, and employees, and all those in privity with it or in active concert and participation with it, from engaging in acts of infringement of the Asserted Patents;
- B. Awarding Aeritas past and future damages together with prejudgment interest and post-judgment interest to compensate for the infringement of the patents-in-suit in accordance with 35 U.S.C. § 284;
- C. Declaring this case exceptional, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285;
- D. Awarding Aeritas its costs (including expert fees), disbursements, and attorneys' fees; and
- E. Granting such further relief as this Court deems to be just and proper.
