JURISDICTION

10. Uniloc brings this action for patent infringement under the patent laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. § 271 et seq. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a).

11. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Amazon in this action because Amazon has committed acts within the Eastern District of Texas giving rise to this action and has established minimum contacts with this forum such that the exercise of jurisdiction over Amazon would not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice. Amazon has committed and continues to commit acts of infringement in this District by, among other things, offering to sell and selling products and/or services that infringe the asserted patent.

12. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391 and 1400(b). Amazon is registered to do business in Texas, and upon information and belief, Amazon has transacted business in the Eastern District of Texas and has committed acts of direct and indirect infringement in the Eastern District of Texas. Amazon has regular and established place of business in this District, as set forth above.

COUNT I

(INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 6,452,515)

13. Uniloc incorporates the preceding paragraphs above by reference.

14. U.S. Patent No. 6,452,515 (“the ’515 Patent”), entitled VIDEO ENCODER AND DECODER that issued on September 17, 2002. A true and correct copy of the ’515 Patent is attached as Exhibit A hereto.

15. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 282, the ’515 Patent is presumed valid.

16. The ’515 Patents describe inventive features that are not well-understood, routine, and conventional.

17. Amazon makes, uses, offers for sale, sells and/or imports into the United States a platform marketed under the name “Amazon AWS Elemental MediaConvert.” Products falling within this marketed family include services and platforms called “AWS Elemental MediaConvert” (e.g., <https://docs.aws.amazon.com/mediaconvert/latest/ug/mediaconvert-guide.pdf>). These services and platforms utilize the Amazon AWS Elemental MediaConvert encoder functions and services. Collectively, such a system constitutes the “Accused Infringing Devices”.

18. The Accused Infringing Devices include various devices and platforms that utilize the Amazon AWS Elemental MediaConvert encoder functions and services.

19. The Accused Infringing Devices include various devices and platforms that provide and/or utilize video encoder functions and services.

20. Amazon AWS Elemental MediaConvert encoder processes video files, including dividing a screen window into X and Y columns, separately encoding each of the X-Y parts, and associating with each part a specific label indicating the position of the specific part, and encoding the labels in random order.

21. Amazon has directly infringed and continues to directly infringe one or more claims of the ’515 Patent in the United States during the pendency of the ’515 Patent, including at least claim 1 literally and/or under the doctrine of equivalents, by or through making, using, offering for sale and/or selling the Accused Infringing Devices that operate as described above.

22. In addition, should the Accused Infringing Devices be found to not literally infringe the asserted claims of the ’515 Patent, use of the devices would nevertheless infringe the asserted claims of the ’515 Patent. More specifically, the devices perform substantially the same function (providing video encoding functions and services), in substantially the same way (via dividing a screen window into parts, separately encoding each of the parts, and associating with each part a specific label indicating the position of the specific part), to yield substantially the same result (providing an encoded video). Amazon would thus be liable for direct infringement under the doctrine of equivalents.

23. Amazon has indirectly infringed and continues to indirectly infringe at least claim 1 of the '515 Patent in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States by, among other things, actively inducing the using, offering for sale or selling the Accused Infringing Devices. Amazon's customers who use such devices in accordance with Amazon's instructions also directly infringe one or more of the foregoing claims of the '515 Patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271. Amazon directly and/or indirectly intentionally instructs its customers to infringe through training videos, demonstrations, brochures, installation and/or user guides such as those located at one or more of the following:

- <https://docs.aws.amazon.com/mediaconvert/latest/ug/mediaconvert-guide.pdf>
- <https://aws.amazon.com/cloudfront/streaming/>

Amazon is thereby liable for infringement of the '515 Patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b).

24. Amazon has indirectly infringed and continues to indirectly infringe at least claim 1 of the '515 Patent by, among other things, contributing to the direct infringement by others including, without limitation customers using the Accused Infringing Devices, by making, offering to sell, selling and/or importing into the United States, a component of a patented machine, manufacture or combination, or an apparatus for use in practicing a patented process, constituting a material part of the invention, knowing the same to be especially made or especially adapted for use in infringing the '515 Patent and not a staple article or commodity of commerce suitable for substantial non-infringing use.

25. Amazon will have been on notice of the '515 Patent since, at the latest, the service of this complaint upon Amazon. By the time of trial, Amazon will have known and intended (since receiving such notice) that its continued actions would actively induce and contribute to the infringement of one or more of claims of the '515 Patent.

26. Amazon may have infringed the '515 Patent through other devices, systems, and software utilizing the same or reasonably similar functionality as described above. Uniloc reserves the right to discover and pursue all such additional infringing software and devices.

27. Uniloc has been damaged by Amazon's infringement of the '515 Patent.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Uniloc requests that the Court enter judgment against Amazon as follows:

- (A) declaring that Amazon has infringed the '515 Patent;
- (B) awarding Uniloc its damages suffered as a result of Amazon's infringement of the '515 Patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 284;
- (C) awarding Uniloc its costs, attorneys' fees, expenses and interest, and
- (D) granting Uniloc such further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Uniloc hereby demands trial by jury on all issues so triable pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 38.
