▼ How do I access attached files in a chat?

Via the Virtual Office mobile app, you can quickly and easily access images and files that you or your colleagues sent via chat in the Virtual Office desktop app. Let's say you need to forward a file to someone with limited Virtual Office access; once you access a file attached in chat, you can share it in just a few taps!

To access attachments in a chat:

1. Open the Recents  tab, and go to Messages or Rooms.
2. While in a chat, tap the thumbnail of an attached file to open the file.

To share attachments in a chat:

1. While in a chat, tap the thumbnail of an attached file to open the file.
2. While viewing the file, tap the Share  icon to bring up a list of applications (such as a messaging or email app) that you can use to share the file.

15. The Product practices specifying, via at least one multimedia component (e.g., a preview thumbnail corresponding to the video file sent) of the multimedia message (e.g., the message containing the video file) an immediate display of the at least one multimedia component one of before and on arrival of the remaining multimedia components (e.g., audio component of the video message, moving picture component of the video message, etc.). A user of the accused instrumentality composes a video message which has audio component, moving picture component, image of start icon, thumbnail image, etc. The accused instrumentality operates on the video message such that at least one multimedia component (e.g., the thumbnail image) is immediately displayed at the recipient side before the arrival of the remaining multimedia components (e.g., audio component of the video message and moving picture component of the video message). The 8x8 Mobile Application allows users to send videos. Once a video has been sent using the 8x8 Mobile Application, the recipient will receive an immediate display of a thumbnail corresponding to the video file at the same time or before the video file itself is and its components (e.g., image and audio) are received/downloaded. Certain aspects of these elements are illustrated in the screen shots below and/or in screen shots provided in connection with other allegations herein.

16. The Product practices identifying, by a sender, a predefined subset of the multimedia components (e.g., thumbnail image corresponding to a video file) of the multimedia message (e.g., the message including the video file) as a signaling signal. When a sender composes a video message, they must select a video to send and in turn select the thumbnail image that is displayed, which corresponds to the video file being sent. These elements are illustrated in the screen shots provided in connection with other allegations herein.

17. The Product practices transmitting information to a recipient with the aid of a notification signal, wherein the notification signal indicates that the multimedia message (e.g., video message) is ready in the communication system (e.g., the 8x8 communication/user network) for downloading, and wherein the multimedia message (e.g., video message) ready for downloading comprises at least one multimedia component (e.g., thumbnail image) which has been identified as a signaling signal. Information is transmitted with the aid of a notification signal (e.g., the application will show a visual indication that a new message has been received). The multimedia message (e.g., video message) ready for download is also shown. That multimedia message (e.g., video message) comprises a signaling message (e.g., the thumbnail image). Upon clicking on said thumbnail the corresponding video file will be downloaded. These elements are illustrated in in the screen shots provided below and/or in those provided in connection with other allegations herein.

18. The Product practices initiating one of immediate and preferred downloading (e.g., the video will download and play when the user decides to click on the play button in the preview image) when the notification signal is received by the recipient, showing that a multimedia component is identified within the multimedia message ready for downloading as a signaling signal. The application will display a visual notification that a message has been received. If said message includes a video, a thumbnail image of said video file will also be displayed (i.e., a signaling signal). Said preview image indicates that a video is ready to be downloaded and said user can select to begin said download. These elements are illustrated in in the screen shots provided in connection with other allegations herein.

19. Regarding Claim 16, the download of the signaling signal (e.g., the thumbnail image) takes place without interaction with the recipient. The preview image is automatically downloaded at the recipient side. These elements are illustrated in the screen shots provided in connection with other allegations herein.

20. Defendant's actions complained of herein will continue unless Defendant is enjoined by this Court.

21. Defendant's actions complained of herein are causing irreparable harm and monetary damage to Plaintiff and will continue to do so unless and until Defendant is enjoined and restrained by this Court.

22. Plaintiff is in compliance with 35 U.S.C. § 287.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

Plaintiff demands a trial by jury of any and all causes of action.
