JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a) because this action arises under the patent laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq.

5. Venue is proper in this federal district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b)-(c) and 1400(b) because Stabil Drill has committed acts of patent infringement here and maintains its corporate headquarters, a regular and established place of business, in this District located at 110 Consolidated Drive, Lafayette, Louisiana 70508, and continues to commit acts of infringement in this District, entitling Extreme to relief.

12. The Extreme Patents generally cover methods and apparatus for increasing the drift diameter and improving the well path of a well bore.

13. The Extreme Patents are valid, enforceable, and was duly issued in full compliance with Title 35 of the United States Code.

14. Extreme licenses Hard Rock Solutions, LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Superior Drilling Products, Inc. to manufacture dual-stage, eccentric reamer and bore conditioning systems covered by the claims of the Extreme Patents including the Drill-N-Ream® reamer. Drilling Tools International, Inc. is the distributor of the Drill-N-Ream® system in the U.S. and Canada, both onshore and offshore. The Drill-N-Ream® reamer has been used successfully worldwide since its introduction in the Spring of 2011.

15. Drill-N-Ream® brochures include a list of patents that cover this product including US Patents 8,851,205 and 8,813,877. The Extreme Patents are also available over the Internet through various online resources such as Google Patents and the U.S. Patent Office website. #### INFRINGEMENT OF EXTREME'S PATENTS

18. Extreme incorporates the preceding paragraphs.

19. On information and belief and pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271(a), Stabil Drill has directly infringed and continues to directly infringe at least one claim of each of the Extreme Patents, by its manufacture, use, sale, lease, and/or offer for sale of products and services that include systems and methods claimed by the Extreme Patents (“Infringing Products”).

20. Infringing Products include, without limitation, Stabil Drill’s Smoothbore™ Eccentric Reamer, and the use thereof.

21. On information and belief, Stabil Drill had actual knowledge of one or more of the Extreme Patents prior to marketing Stabil Drill’s Smoothbore™ Eccentric Reamer and knew that its intended use constitutes infringement of the Extreme Patents. Alternatively, Stabil Drill believed there is a high probability that a direct or indirect customer who used the Smoothbore™ Eccentric Reamer would infringe the Extreme Patents but have remained willfully blind to the infringing nature of such action.

22. On information belief, Stabil Drill indirectly infringes at least one claim of each of the Extreme Patents by active inducement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b) and/or § 271(f). Stabil Drill has induced, caused, urged, encouraged, aided and abetted their direct and indirect customers to make, use, sell, offer for sale, and/or import Infringing Products, or caused to be supplied in or from the U.S. all or a substantial portion of the Infringing Products. Stabil Drill has done so by acts including but not limited to selling and/or renting Infringing Products to their domestic and foreign customers; marketing Infringing Products; and providing instructions, technical support, and other support and encouragement (available via <http://stabildrill.com/bha-rentals/reamers/smoothbore>, for instance) for the use of Infringing Products. Such conduct by Stabil Drill was intended to and actually resulted in direct infringement, including the making, using, selling, offering for sale, and/or importation of Infringing Products in the United States.

23. On information belief, Stabil Drill indirectly infringe by contributing to the infringement of, and continuing to contribute to the infringement of, at least one claim of each of the Extreme Patents under 35 U.S.C. § 271(c) and/or 271(f) by selling, offering for sale, and/or importing into or causing to be supplied from the United States, the Infringing Products and/or components of the Infringing Products. Stabil Drill knew that the Infringing Products include hardware components that work to perform specific, intended functions. Such specific, intended functions, carried out by the Infringing Products or the hardware combinations, are a material part of the inventions of the Extreme Patents and are not staple articles of commerce suitable for substantial non-infringing use.

24. Prior to the filing of this complaint, Stabil Drill knew or should have known that it infringed the Extreme Patents.

25. Stabil Drill was notified about the Extreme Patents by Superior Drilling Products, Inc.'s letter dated April 11, 2018, followed by several later communications, in an attempt to convince Stabil Drill to stop their infringing activities without resorting to litigation.

26. Despite such knowledge, Stabil Drill has proceeded to infringe the Extreme Patents with full and complete knowledge that they cover the Infringing Products without a good faith belief that the Extreme Patents are not infringed. Stabil Drill's actions constitute an egregious case of misconduct beyond typical infringement. Thus, Stabil Drill's infringement of the Extreme Patents is willful and deliberate, entitling Extreme to increased damages under 35 U.S.C. § 284 and to attorneys' fees and costs incurred in prosecuting this action under 35 U.S.C. § 285.

27. The acts of infringement by Stabil Dril have caused damage to Extreme, and Extreme is entitled to recover from Stabil Drill the damages sustained by Extreme as a result of Stabil Drill's wrongful acts in an amount subject to proof at trial. The infringement of Extreme's exclusive rights under the Extreme Patents by Stabil Drill has damaged and will continue to damage Extreme, causing irreparable harm, for which there is no adequate remedy at law, unless enjoined by this Court.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

28. Extreme demands a trial by jury of any and all issues triable of right before a jury.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Extreme prays for the following relief:

a. A judgment in favor of Extreme that Stabil Drill has infringed and is infringing, either literally and/or under the doctrine of equivalents, U.S. Patent Nos. 8,851,205; 8,813,877; and 9,657,526;

b. An Order preliminarily enjoining Stabil Drill, their respective officers, directors, agents, employees, licensees, and those acting in privity with them, from further direct and/or indirect infringement of Extreme's Patents;

c. An Order permanently enjoining Stabil Drill, their respective officers, directors, agents, employees, licensees, and those acting in privity with them, from further direct and/or indirect infringement of the Extreme Patents;

d. A judgment that Stabil Drill's infringement of the Extreme Patents has been egregious and willful;

e. An award of damages to Extreme arising out of Stabil Drill's infringement of the Extreme Patents, including supplemental damages for any continuing post-verdict infringement up until entry of the final judgment, with an accounting, as needed, and enhanced damages pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 284, together with prejudgment and post-judgment interest, in an amount according to proof;

f. An award of damages for Stabil Drill's post-judgment infringement in an amount according to proof in the event that a permanent injunction preventing future acts of infringement is not granted;

g. An award of attorneys' fees pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285 or as otherwise permitted by law; and

h. Granting Extreme its costs and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.
