Plaintiff Supercell Oy ("Supercell"), by and through its attorneys, brings this Complaint for Breach of Contract and Declaratory Judgment against Defendant GREE, Inc. ("GREE" or "Defendant") and alleges the following:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

- 1. This is an action for a declaratory judgment relating to U.S. Patent Nos. 9,597,594 (the "'594 patent"); 9,636,583 (the "'583 patent"); 9,770,659 (the "'659 patent"); 9,956,481 (the "'481 patent"); 9,604,137 (the "'137 patent") 9,968,843 (the "'843 patent"); 9,457,273 (the "'273 patent"); and 9,795,873 (the "873 Patent") (collectively the "patents-in-suit") arising under the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and, 2202, and the patent laws of the United States, including Title 35, United States Code. Specifically, Supercell seeks a declaratory judgment of non-infringement as to the '594, '583, '659, '481, '137, '843, '273, and '873 patents. Supercell also seeks a declaratory judgment of invalidity as to the '594, '583, and '659 patents. A dispute exists between Supercell and GREE. GREE has alleged that Supercell's Clash of Clans game infringes a Japanese patent to which the '594 patent claims priority, Supercell's Clash Royale game infringes Japanese patents to which the '583, '659, '481, '137, and '273 patents claim priority, Supercell's Boom Beach game infringes a Japanese patent to which the '843 patent claims priority, and Supercell's Brawl Stars game infringes the '873 patent. Supercell contends that it has the right to engage in this activity without license. Supercell thus seeks a declaration that it does not infringe the patents-in-suit and that certain patents are invalid, as noted above. An actual, substantial, and continuing justiciable controversy exists between Supercell and GREE.
- 2. This is an action for breach of contract

| 1 | 6. This action arises under the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202; |

11. Personal jurisdiction over Defendant is proper in this District because Defendant has chosen to conduct business relating to the licensing and enforcement activities of its U.S. and world-wide patent portfolio within the Northern District of California. On September 12, 2016, GREE sent a letter seeking to enforce its rights in U.S. Patent Application 14/983,984 (which issued as the '594 patent) to Supercell, whose main U.S. location is within this District. Further, GREE specifically chose counsel located within this District to represent its efforts relating to the licensing and enforcement of GREE's patent portfolio. GREE's lead counsel for negotiating the Agreement at issue in this litigation is located within the Northern District of California. Furthermore, GREE retained counsel located in the Northern District of

- 12. Personal jurisdiction over Defendant is proper in this District because it has systematic and continuous business contacts with California. GREE has systematic and continuous business contacts with the state through its distribution of mobile game applications through third-party distributors located in this district to users located within this district. GREE, by and through its affiliates and subsidiaries, including GREE VR Capital, LLC, GREE International Entertainment, Inc., Fantasy Legend Studios, Inc., and Funzio Games, Inc., maintains or maintained offices in the Northern District of California at 1350 Bayshore Highway, Suite 920, Burlingame, California 94010, 185 Berry Street, San Francisco, California 94107, and 642 Harrison Street, San Francisco, California 94107.
- Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) because GREE is subject 13. to personal jurisdiction in this judicial district, and GREE has directed its business activities at this judicial district, which GREE admitted in a pleading to this Court. In addition, GREE has directed licensing and enforcement activities at this judicial district, and a substantial part of events giving rise to the claim occurred in this judicial district. As noted above, GREE sent a letter seeking to enforce its rights in U.S. Patent Application 14/983,984 (which issued as the '594 patent) to Supercell, whose main U.S. location is within this District. Further, GREE specifically chose counsel located within this District to lead its efforts relating to the licensing and enforcement of GREE's patent portfolio, and defend the validity of patents at issue in this case before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board. Further, GREE sent a representative from its Tokyo headquarters to attend a mediation between GREE and Supercell in the case Supercell Oy

v. GREE, Inc., 4:17-cv-05556-YGR, Dkt. No. 65, ¶10 (N.D. Cal. May 17, 2017), which took place in San Francisco, California. Finally, on information and belief, GREE, by and through its affiliates and subsidiaries, including GREE VR Capital, LLC, GREE International Entertainment, Inc., and Funzio Games, Inc., maintains or maintained offices in the Northern District of California at 1350 Bayshore Highway, Suite 920, Burlingame, California 94010, 185 Berry Street, San Francisco, California 94107, and 642 Harrison Street, San Francisco, California 94107.

INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

14. Pursuant to Civil L.R. 3-2(c), this action is to be assigned on a district-wide basis because it is an intellectual property action.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

- 15. Supercell hereby restates and re-alleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 15.
- 16. On March 21, 2017, the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO") issued the '594 patent entitled "Computer Control Method, Control Program and Computer." The '594 patent states on its face that it was filed on December 30, 2015 and that it was assigned to GREE, Inc. The '594 patent claims priority to Japanese Patent Application 2013-202721, which GREE identified as being infringed by Supercell's Clash of Clans game. A true and correct copy of the '594 patent is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit C.
- 17. On May 2, 2017, the USPTO issued the '583 patent entitled "Storage Medium Storing Game Program, Game Processing Method, And Information Processing Apparatus." The '583 patent states on its face that it was filed on Sept. 1, 2016 and that it was assigned to GREE, Inc. The '583 patent claims priority to Japanese Patent Application 2013-116039, which GREE identified as being infringed by Supercell's Clash Royale game. A true and correct copy of the '583 patent is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit D.
- 18. On September 26, 2017, the USPTO issued the '659 patent entitled "Storage Medium Storing Game Program, Game Processing Method, And Information Processing Apparatus." The '659 patent states on its face that it was filed on Dec. 27, 2016 and that it was assigned to GREE, Inc. The '659 patent claims priority to Japanese Patent Application 2013-116039, which GREE identified as being infringed by Supercell's Clash Royale game. A true and correct copy of the '659 patent is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit E.

- 19. On May 1, 2018, the USPTO issued the '481 patent entitled "Server, Control Method Therefor, Computer-Readable Recording Medium, and Game System." The '481 patent states on its face that it was filed on Dec. 27, 2016 and that it was assigned to GREE, Inc. The '481 patent claims priority to Japanese Patent Application 2013-042162, which GREE identified as being infringed by Supercell's Clash Royale game. A true and correct copy of the '481 patent is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit F.
- 20. On March 28, 2017, the USPTO issued the '137 patent entitled "Server, Control Method Therefor, Computer-Readable Recording Medium, and Game System." The '137 patent states on its face that it was filed on Nov. 2, 2015 and that it was assigned to GREE, Inc. The '137 patent claims priority to Japanese Patent Application 2013-042162, which GREE identified as being infringed by Supercell's Clash Royale game. A true and correct copy of the '137 patent is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit G.
- 21. On May 15, 2018, the USPTO issued the '843 patent entitled "Communication System, Method for Controlling Communication System, and Program." The '843 patent states on its face that it was filed on Jan 24, 2014 and that it was assigned to GREE, Inc. The '843 patent claims priority to Japanese Patent Application 2013-017917, which GREE identified as being infringed by Supercell's Boom Beach game. A true and correct copy of the '843 patent is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit H.
- 22. On October 4, 2016, the USPTO issued the '273 patent entitled "Storage Medium Storing Game Program, Game Processing Method, and Information Processing Apparatus." The '273 patent states on its face that it was filed on May 30, 2014 and that it was assigned to GREE, Inc. The '273 patent claims priority to Japanese Patent Application 2013-116039, which GREE identified as being infringed by Supercell's Clash Royale game. A true and correct copy of the '273 patent is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit I.

| | 23. | On October 24, 2017, the USPTO issued the '873 patent entitled "Shooting Game |
|--------|---------|---|
| Contro | l Metho | d and Game System." The '873 patent states on its face that it was filed on |
| Decem | ber 13, | 2016 and that it was assigned to GREE, Inc. |

true and correct copy of the '873 patent is attached to this Complaint as Exhibit P. On information and belief, GREE is the owner of all right, title, and interest in the patents-in-suit.

- There is an actual controversy within the jurisdiction of this Court under 28 U.S.C. 24. §§2201 and 2202 as to each of the patents-in-suit.
- 25. On September 12, 2016, Naoki Yoshida from the law firm of Finnegan, Henderson, Farabow, Garrett & Dunner, LLP, former counsel for GREE, Inc., sent a letter to IIkka Paananen, CEO of Supercell Oy. In the September 12 letter, GREE identified and asserted it is the legal owner of 19 Japanese patents and U.S. Patent Application 14/983,984. The letter further notes "GREE owns patent applications currently pending in Japan, Europe, the U.S., and other countries, that are directed to on-line gaming products and plan to file more applications to protect its invention in the technical area." GREE further stated, "It has come to GREE's attention that Supercell is currently distributing at least four mobile game products worldwide: 'Boom Beach,' 'Clash of Clans,' 'Clash Royale,' and 'Hay Day.' Upon review of the products, GREE believes that these products may infringe one or more of GREE's patents and may be encompassed by the allowed claims of the U.S. patent application." GREE further asserted "GREE would rather reach a reasonable agreement with Supercell than to take on a patent fight; however, GREE is willing to take that fight on if this cannot be accomplished." Exhibit J.
- 26. On October 6, 2016, Michael Sacksteder of Fenwick & West LLP, attorneys for Supercell, responded to the September 12 letter, and directed GREE to correspond with Mr. Sacksteder going forward. Exhibit K.
- 27. On October 14, 2016, Mr. Yoshida representing GREE, wrote a letter to Mr. Sacksteder for Supercell. In the October 14 letter, GREE provided Supercell with "exemplary claim charts including English translations of GREE's Japanese patent claims." GREE further asserted, "In addition to the claims in the [exemplary claim charts], we believe that other claims in GREE's patents are infringed by one or more of the Supercell products." Exhibit L.

- 28. On December 21, 2016, Hiroyuki Hagiwara from Paul Hastings LLP, new counsel for GREE, wrote an email to Mr. Sacksteder for Supercell seeking to arrange a phone call "to discuss GREE's terms for licensing." Exhibit M.
- 29. On December 22, 2016, Mr. Hagiwara and Mr. Sacksteder spoke on the phone regarding GREE's terms for licensing GREE's patents. Mr. Hagiwara followed the December 22 phone call with an email on December 22, 2016 to Mr. Sacksteder. Mr. Hagiwara attached two documents to the email that comprised "a list of GREE patents GREE is currently prepared to license and a set of additional claim charts." The list of GREE patents and patent applications identified Supercell's games as "Related products" corresponding to GREE's patents and patent applications. Exhibit N.
- 30. The "list of GREE patents GREE is currently prepared to license" included Japanese patent applications to which each of the patents-in-suit claim priority. Id.
- 31. Starting in 2017, GREE initiated a patent monetization litigation campaign in Japan. In 2017 and 2018, GREE filed more than 30 preliminary injunction and formal patent infringement actions against Supercell in Japan.
- 32. In response, Supercell filed patent infringement actions against GREE and its subsidiaries in Japan, China, and the United States. Supercell also filed 16 petitions for postgrant review, nine of which have been instituted. Post-grant review petitions have been instituted as to all claims of the '594, '583, and '659 patents. The Patent Trial and Appeal Board found claims 1, 8, and 10–20 of the '594 patent unpatentable under 35 U.S.C. § 101, and found that the petitioner had not shown claims 2–7 and 9 to be unpatentable under § 101. The Patent Trial and Appeal Board has not issued a final written decision as to the '583 and '659 patent.
- 33. GREE filed patent invalidity actions against Supercell in China and filed two petitions for inter partes review in the United States.
 - 34.

- 52. Supercell does not infringe the patents-in-suit, and the '594, '583, and '659 are invalid under 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103 and/or 112.
- 53. On information and belief, GREE may believe Supercell infringes other patents in its patent portfolio.

54. Based on the foregoing, a justiciable controversy exists between Supercell and GREE as to whether Supercell infringes the patents-in-suit and whether the claims of the '594, '583, and '659 patents are valid. Absent a declaration of noninfringement, invalidity, or release of all claims, GREE will continue to wrongly assert the patents-in-suit against Supercell, and thereby cause Supercell irreparable harm.

COUNT I: DECLARATORY RELIEF REGARDING NON-INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 9,597,594

- 55. Supercell restates and incorporates by reference each of the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 54 above, as if fully set forth herein.
- 56. GREE contends that Supercell has or is infringing one or more claims of the '594 patent.

- 57. On information and belief, GREE claims to be the owner of all right, title and interest in the '594 patent, including the right to assert all causes of action arising under that patent and the right to any remedies for infringement of it.
- 58. Supercell does not infringe any claim of the '594 patent, directly or indirectly, contributorily or otherwise, through its or its customer's activities in conjunction with any of Supercell's products or services.
- 59. As set forth above, an actual and justiciable controversy exists between Supercell and GREE as to Supercell's noninfringement of the '594 patent.
- 60. Pursuant to the Federal Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 et seq., Supercell requests that this Court enter a judgment that Supercell does not infringe under any theory of infringement, any valid claim of the '594 patent.

COUNT II: DECLARATORY RELIEF REGARDING INVALIDITY OF U.S. PATENT NO. 9,597,594

- 61. Supercell restates and incorporates by reference each of the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 60 above, as if fully set forth herein.
- 62. Upon information and belief, GREE contends all claims of the '594 patent are valid.
- 63. All claims of the '594 patent are invalid for failure to comply with one or more of the conditions for patentability set forth in Title 35 of the United States Code, including without limitation 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, and/or 112.
- 64. As set forth above, an actual and justiciable controversy exists between Supercell and GREE as to Supercell's noninfringement of the '594 patent.
- 65. Pursuant to the Federal Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 et seq., Supercell requests that this Court enter a judgment that all claims of the '594 patent are invalid pursuant to Title 35 of the United States Code, including without limitation 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, and/or 112.

COUNT III: DECLARATORY RELIEF REGARDING NON-INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 9,636,583

- 66. Supercell restates and incorporates by reference each of the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 65 above, as if fully set forth herein.
- 67. GREE contends that Supercell has or is infringing one or more claims of the '583 patent.
- 68. On information and belief, GREE claims to be the owner of all right, title and interest in the '583 patent, including the right to assert all causes of action arising under that patent and the right to any remedies for infringement of it.
- 69. Supercell does not infringe any claim of the '583 patent, directly or indirectly, contributorily or otherwise, through its or its customer's activities in conjunction with any of Supercell's products or services.
- 70. As set forth above, an actual and justiciable controversy exists between Supercell and GREE as to Supercell's noninfringement of the '583 patent.
- 71. Pursuant to the Federal Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 et seq., Supercell requests that this Court enter a judgment that Supercell does not infringe under any theory of infringement, any valid claim of the '583 patent.

COUNT IV: DECLARATORY RELIEF REGARDING INVALIDITY OF U.S. PATENT NO. 9,636,583

- 72. Supercell restates and incorporates by reference each of the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 71 above, as if fully set forth herein.
- 73. Upon information and belief, GREE contends all claims of the '583 patent are valid.
- 74. All claims of the '583 patent are invalid for failure to comply with one or more of the conditions for patentability set forth in Title 35 of the United States Code, including without limitation 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, and/or 112.
- 75. As set forth above, an actual and justiciable controversy exists between Supercell and GREE as to Supercell's noninfringement of the '583 patent.

76. Pursuant to the Federal Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 et seq., Supercell requests that this Court enter a judgment that all claims of the '583 patent are invalid pursuant to Title 35 of the United States Code, including without limitation 35 U.S.C. §§ 101, 102, 103, and/or 112.

COUNT V: DECLARATORY RELIEF REGARDING NON-INFRINGEMENT OF U.S. PATENT NO. 9,770,659

- 77. Supercell restates and incorporates by reference each of the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 76 above, as if fully set forth herein.
- 78. GREE contends that Supercell has or is infringing one or more claims of the '659 patent.
- 79. On information and belief, GREE claims to be the owner of all right, title and interest in the '659 patent, including the right to assert all causes of action arising under that patent and the right to any remedies for infringement of it.
- 80. Supercell does not infringe any claim of the '659 patent, directly or indirectly, contributorily or otherwise, through its or its customer's activities in conjunction with any of Supercell's products or services.
- 81. As set forth above, an actual and justiciable controversy exists between Supercell and GREE as to Supercell's noninfringement of the '659 patent.
- 82. Pursuant to the Federal Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 et seq., Supercell requests that this Court enter a judgment that Supercell does not infringe under any theory of infringement, any valid claim of the '659 patent.

COUNT VI: DECLARATORY RELIEF REGARDING INVALIDITY OF U.S. PATENT NO. 9,770,659

- 83. Supercell restates and incorporates by reference each of the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 82 above, as if fully set forth herein.
- 84. Upon information and belief, GREE contends all claims of the '659 patent are valid.
